Who is FRDA?

FRDA's commercial solutions practice offers the same sensitive services to select clients that we have provided to US Defense and Intelligence clients for almost 20 years. With ongoing engagements in 17 countries we are continually proving our effectiveness.

We have a deep understanding of social, cultural, economic, and political frameworks that affect the value of your business in emerging markets. Our employees have extensive backgrounds in business, Intelligence, and Special Operations, with decades of experience solving the most pressing national security problems.
